Fraser Valley Real Estate Board News Release, Dec, 2, 2009
"Busier than Normal November"

"Interest rates continue to be a strong motivator resulting in unseasonably high real estate sales for this time of year," said Paul Penner, President of the Board. "We typically see both sales and listing activity slow in November as people start to get ready for the holidays and we did experience that on the listing side, but not in sales. This was the second busiest November Fraser Valley REALTORS® have seen in ten years."
